

To Investigate Atomic Setup Thoroughly

Washington, May 24 —(AP)—The senate-house committee on atomic matters set out today to find an "outside expert" to doublecheck the case of the missing uranium. Their search opened one more chapter in the Capitol Hill inquiry into how well the Atomic Energy Commission guards its vital secrets.

Meanwhile, senators on an appropriations subcommittee concerned with the commission's request for a billion dollars called in Isador Edelman, holder of a $5,750 AEC fellowship. They want to know their own impression of his loyalty.

The commission has been under heated criticism in congress for permitting students whose loyalty has been questioned to receive its grants for scientific study.

House spy hunters added to the fire yesterday with the disclosure that "scientist x"—an unidentified west coast professor accused last year of slipping atomic secrets to the Soviet Union—had been perusing students who hold the government financed AEC fellowships.

The fellowship flurry and the case of the missing uranium prompted Senator Hickenlooper (Iowa) to demand that David E. Lilienthal be fired from his commission chairmanship.

Michigan's Senator Vandenberg (R) suggested that the congressional inquiry be searching. He raised the point of Lilienthal's attitudes toward atomic secrets.

Lilienthal has taken the stand that the Atomic Energy Commission has achieved a remarkable record in its stands as the answer to its critics.

On the subject of the missing uranium, Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) said the joint committee on atomic energy has decided to hire a nuclear physicist or radiochemist to inquire into the circumstances of the loss of a small bottle of U-235 from an atomic lab in Chicago.

The committee spent nearly six hours yesterday closed doors yesterday listening to the testimony of Dr. W. H. Zinn, director of the Argonne National Laboratory, and others.

While the facts presented by Dr. Zinn are persuasive, many feel that the committee wants the independent judgment of an outside expert consultant, McMahon said.

Most of the missing U-235, about an ounce in all contained in uranium oxide, reportedly has been recovered at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic laboratory. The exact manner in which it turned up there has not been clarified to the satisfaction of some senators.

61-Year-Old Ouachita Building Burns

Arkadelphia, May 24 —(AP)—The 61-year-old main building of Ouachita college here was destroyed by fire early today after lightning struck its tower.

No estimate of the loss was available immediately, but the three-story brick structure will have to be replaced entirely. Only walls of the first two stories were left standing as firemen continued pouring water into the ruins at 7:30.

A bolt of lightning, touched off the fire during a severe electrical storm and rain storm shortly after 3 a. m. The flames got a good start in chemical laboratories and spread rapidly through the remainder of the building by high winds.

Authorities of the Baptist college previously had discussed replacing the old main building but had decided to leave it standing for sentimental reasons even if a new building were constructed for actual use.

Destruction of the building will handicap final examinations for undergraduates. They have another week of studies, although commencement exercises for seniors were held yesterday.

Transient Praises Local Auto Firm

The following story appeared in a recent edition of "Chrysler Tonic", a publication by Chrysler Corp. for dealers throughout the nation.

In the opinion of M. W. Sausse of Los Angeles, Calif., Nunn-McDowell Motors Co., Hope, Ark., Chrysler dealers, is absolutely "tops" when it comes to handling a transient motorist. He wrote:

"During my recent trip from New York City to Los Angeles, in my new Plymouth, purchased just before I left New York, I had occasion to visit some of your dealers for check-up, change of oil, etc. All were courteous and efficient."

"It is, however, about one of your dealers in particular that I write you. You are to be commended for the excellent service as Nunn-McDowell Motor Co. of Hope, Ark., in your organization. I have driven many thousands of miles and visited many different cities and can honestly say that I have never before encountered such an honest, courteous, efficient and genuinely pleasant group."

Forces Youth to Pray, Then Murders Him

Frankfurt, Germany, May 24 —(AP)—A Frankfurt man confessed he forced an eight-year-old boy to pray for "eternal world peace" and then killed him with an axe in the belief a dying child's last wish would be granted, German police said today.

Police said they are holding Walter Huegel, 30, as the slaying of the boy, Sigmar Schuster.

Nationalists Ready to Quit Shanghai

By FRED HAMPSON

Shanghai, May 24 —(AP)—The Communists smashed almost into Shanghai today. A night of evidence mounted that Nationalist forces were on the verge of abandoning the city.

The hardest Red blows were directed at the southwestern section, where the Red drive pulled up at the famed 35 mile wooden fence—a smash that carried the Reds through Shanghai's defenses there in some spots.

Vessels were sunk deliberately in the Whangpoo, Shanghai's shipping lifeline. The channel to the Yangtze was blocked, a move likely to be made as a last resort before the nationalists pulled out.

Troops in large numbers seemed to be heading for Woosung, logical point to board outward bound ships.

(A Canton dispatch quoted a Chinese flier from Lungwa as saying he saw a large concentration of Chinese ships this morning near Woosung.)

Shanghai was rife with rumors. One said the Reds were in the old French concession. But at 4 p. m. I visited the defenses on Hung Lo Road, other city entrances along the railroad and Lungwa was alerted. There was a scene of crowded confusion. But Nationalist defenses, while battered, had not broken. The Reds definitely were not inside Shanghai.

Roads into the city were thronged with broad-faced country people. They carried their farm tools, household belongings and, in some cases half formed vegetable gardens they had grubbed as they fled. This may be the only food for some.

Some Nationalist troops were moving back. Most of them, were supply units which move to and from constantly.

From these forward areas few combat units were leaving. In some spots riflemen moved up along the armored vehicles.

Lungwa was a no-man's land. Buildings were empty, the airstrip vacant. But nobody dared enter the place. If the Reds were near they were not advancing.

The fact the Communists reached the wooden fence means they got through most of Shanghai's defenses.

At that point their attack seems to have bogged down and the Reds fell back. As a result they are still only part of the way through the hard crust of the southwestern defenses.

They might be able to break through with another punch unless the Nationalists can counterattack.

Fighting still sputtered on Pootung, but compared with last night's show it was spotty.

Foreign ship owners had promised their ships would not be subjected to the scorched earth policy. But seven hours later a detachment of soldiers threatened to destroy four American craft near the Texas company tank farm. The soldiers said they had orders to sink three lighters and a launch, valued by J. S. Marshall, head of the shipping department, at $1,000,000.

American officials immediately protested to the consulate. The consuls immediately petitioned garrison commanders to halt the order but it was not known whether it had been stopped.

As darkness came on soldiers tacked signs up Chengchung road and the bund that read:

One family hides a Communist. Up to 10 families will be punished.

Under martial law the penalty for aiding the Reds is death.

CIO Rubber Workers Fire President

Philadelphia, May 24 —(AP)—CIO's United Rubber Workers Union announced today that L. S. Buckmaster has been fired as international president of the union.

The announcement was made by Robert Cruden, public relations director for the union.

Cruden said Buckmaster's removal was ordered by the 13 other members of the union's general executive board who acted as a trial board and heard testimony on charges against Buckmaster here from April 25 to May 20.

The URW president, who was re-elected by a margin of only two votes last fall, was tried on these charges:

1. That he conspired with "certain individuals" to deprive local union officers of their rights.

2. That he issued public statements falsely attacking the character of local officers.

3. That he was responsible for a riot that broke up a meeting of Local 338, Pottstown, Pa., last March.

4. That his conduct was part of a general plan to deprive the Pottstown local of its "rights and Democratic privileges."

5. That these actions constituted "malfeasance in office."

Buckmaster was succeeded as international president by H. R. Winant, Akron, O., former vice president. This step up for Lloyd is in accordance with the union constitution.

Also moving up was F. M. Dickenson of Memphis, Tenn., the southern director who advanced to vice president.

More People Take Their Lives in Cold War Than in Actual War—the Cause Seldom Varies

By HAL BOYLE
New York —(AP)—More people take their own lives in a cold war than a hot war.

This truth of history is emphasized by the death of the nation's first secretary of defense — James Forrestal.

He is the third major statesman in the post-war world to kill himself. The others were John G. Winant, former ambassador to Britain, and Jan Masaryk of Czechoslovakia.

Forrestal... Winant... Masaryk... Why did they do it?

It is always a ripple on the commonplace when men in high places destroy themselves.

Why did they kill themselves? All were well-to-do, respected, and seemingly had much to live for. They were three men with three different philosophies of life. They all traveled different roads, but the roads ended up at the same blank wall.

Forrestal was an investment banker and a realist. Masaryk was a cultured and cosmopolitan sophisticated and the idealist all turned to suicide as the only way out of their problems.

Says Publisher Threatened With Gun

West Memphis, May 24 —(AP)—P. E. (Pete) Coughlin, co-publisher of a weekly newspaper here, has been charged with "drawing a deadly weapon" to prevent service men from shutting off the power at his plant.

Walter Rimer, a city light and water department employee, said Coughlin threatened him with a shotgun yesterday when he was sent to disconnect the power lines because of an overdue electrical bill.

Rimer said he had climbed a pole to make the adjustment when Coughlin appeared on the scene, shotgun in hand, and shouted:

"Don't you cut them — lights off. I'll shoot you off that pole! I mean it!"

Another department service man, Dick Rimes, said he told Rimer to come down. Later the pair returned with a police escort to disconnect the lines.

Coughlin's attorney, Emmett Colvin, said the publisher was out of town, but that a trial will show he is innocent. Trial date has not been set. Bond for the newspaperman was set at $1,000.

In Arkansas, the charge "drawing a deadly weapon" carries a minimum fine of $500 and a year's imprisonment upon conviction.

Coughlin and his brother, J. G. (Jack) Coughlin, publish the West Memphis News.

R. E. Bruner Organizes New Industry

Another new industry joins the parade moving into buildings at the Industrial Area of Hope, Arkansas, formerly Southwestern Proving Grounds, it was announced today by Vincent Foster, chairman of the Industrial Committee of the Hope Chamber of Commerce.

The Hope Paddle and Oar Co., a local concern, will manufacture paddles and oars in sizes from 2 feet to 20 feet in length, paddles starting at 2' and going to 5' and oars being made in lengths from 6' to 20'.

These paddles, and oars designed for lightness, strength and ease of handling will be marketed at first through jobbers, Mr. R. E. Bruner, president of the company said. Employing initially about 10 men, the company will have over $20,000 invested in machinery and equipment.

Asked why he had chosen to locate his plant in Hope, Mr. Bruner said that no where else had he found that combination of excellent low cost buildings, utilities, low cost gas and superior transportation facilities that he found in Hope.

"This building, made of brick with heavy steel frame, complete with electric wiring, rest rooms, plumbing and heating was practically ready for him to move into, hence delay will be avoided in getting moved and into production. Hope has reasonable utility rates and the lowest gas rate in the state."

There are over 22 other large buildings ready for industrial occupancy at the Industrial Area now ranging in size from 4,000 to 12,000 square feet of floor space. These buildings are served by paved highways, many are on Railroad spurs, all are served by adequate water, sewage, electric and gas lines, and are available to industrial users at less than the cost of materials to build them. Rentals, or lease-purchase arrangements may be made by sound industrialists," Mr. Foster reported.

Another reason for choosing this location, according to Mr. Bruner, was that he believes in the future, industrially, of the Hope Industrial Area. "I don't believe that Cobbwood, Inc., and Klipsch and Associates will be alone with the Hope Paddle and Oar Co. at the Industrial Area for long. Mr. Bruner said, "Other industries will follow; the opportunities are too great and the picture too attractive for industry not to take advantage of it."

Mr. Bruner is well known in Arkansas, particularly in the lumbering and woodworking industry. He has operated plants at Cotton Plant, and Heber Springs, Arkansas before moving to Hope with Bruner-Ivory Handle Co. which has grown through the years into the world's largest manufacturer of types of handles, shipping its products throughout the United States and all over the world.

Leave U.S. Zone Is Ultimatum to Red Police

Berlin, May 24 —(AP)—U. S. Brig. Gen. L. H. Hovey gave an ultimatum to Soviet-employed railway police to withdraw from all American sector railway stations in Berlin today.

The police were given until 7 p. m. (U. S. time) to comply. Hovey said West Berlin police will take over to restore order following bloody rioting last night which resulted in two deaths.

British and French officials refused yesterday to endorse Hovey's proposal that the Soviet-controlled railway guards be expelled from all Allied sectors. The Russians, by four-power agreement, have had control of all railways in Berlin.

The ouster of the railway police was demanded by both the anti-Communist rail union, which struck Saturday, and the West Berlin city government.

They claimed the Soviet-controlled railway police could break a strike unless the stations were firmly in western hands. The strikers are demanding payment in west marks.

Hovey, the U. S. commandant in Berlin, gave the ultimatum to American sector German police to carry out. Such a step had been described previously by the British and French as conflicting with the agreement recognizing Soviet authority over the rail system.

The violence erupted suddenly after a comparatively quiet day. A howling mob of about 4,000 striking railway workers and their sympathizers tried to storm the zoo elevated railway station.

Soviet-controlled German railway police fired on them. A 45-year-old man, shot in the head, died instantly. A 16-year-old youth was reported killed. Two other persons were wounded and hospitalized, but later released.

More bloodshed was averted by firm action on the part of British authorities, who demanded that 200 German police evacuate the station. The Russian-supplied railway police yielded and West Berlin police took over the two-story structure.

While the negotiations were going on, the angry mob was restrained by western police and union leaders armed with clubs.

The station near the Berlin zoo has been a stronghold of Communist strikebreakers and Eastern German police trying to get the elevated railway system running. The system was paralyzed Saturday since the workers struck.

Chiefly over a demand that they be paid in West marks, worth four times as much as Russian-backed East marks.

The British intervened a second time when the eastern police force stationed at the West Kreuz station offered to withdraw because of the menacing attitude of "action squads" of strikers.

Western Berlin police were sent to maintain order and cleared the station grounds of Communist strikebreakers. The British and police were entitled to remain as long as they had the situation under control and did not provoke incidents.

This was in line with the view expressed by the four powers yesterday. They refused a plea from the West Berlin city government for intervention in the strike. The Russians were given control over the railway system throughout Berlin by four-power agreement in 1945.

The commanders authorized intervention by western police only to quell outbreaks of violence at individual stations.

British intelligence agents who mingled with the crowd at the zoo station said the attack by the mob was carefully planned in an effort to bring the railway system to a halt. Allied forces. The agents said the strikers had gathered their toughest men for the job.

An official list compiled before last night's riot showed approximately 100 persons had been injured seriously since the walkout. Twelve thousand railway workers are on strike.

Western-licensed Berlin newspapers claimed meanwhile that employees of the railway system in the Soviet sector of the city were leaving their jobs in sympathy with the strikers.

Blevins Area Struck By High Winds

High winds struck this section for the second time about 3 a. m. this morning and Blevins seems to have been the only place which suffered serious damage.

Telephone and power lines were down, plate glass windows in the Stephens store and a garage were blown down, outbuildings toppled, and roofs were considerably damaged on several homes.

Although damage could not be called serious it will prove costly to replace.

Road Contracts to Total Two Million Monthly

Little Rock, May 24 —(AP)—Governor McMath said today Arkansas will let $2,000,000 in highway contracts monthly starting in June.

The governor made his announcement following a conference with state highway and fiscal officials.

His plan to issue $20,000,000 in bonds to help finance an $80,000,000 road building program in the next four years was approved by the Arkansas Supreme Court yesterday.

McMath said $500,000 in road contracts already have been let during his five months in office.

He said money derived from the first $7,000,000 annual highway bond issue will be matched with federal funds and added to regular state revenue to provide the $2,000,000 monthly amount.

Arkansas bonds have been given an A rating, allowing the state to borrow money on the new issue more cheaply, the governor said.

"This means Arkansas' credit has been greatly improved due to the fact that the state has taken a realistic view of the highway situation and has started on a definite plan toward proper maintenance and construction of hard surfaced roads," he added.

"This raise in the rating will save taxpayers of the state a tremendous amount in interest charges. With the state able to borrow money cheaply and materials and the cost of building down, we should be able to make great strides in our highway program."

Ex-Soviet Teacher Is 'Doing Fine'

New York, May 24 —(AP)—Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina's dramatic leap to freedom from the Soviet consulate here has won her not only political asylum—but a lot of cash as well.

The Russian ex-school teacher who never had a decent decision money before, has netted $45,000 in less than a year through sale of her syndicated stories here and abroad, she revealed yesterday.

She had paid off $10,000 medical bills, and the serious injuries suffered in her leap last Aug. 23 and she had paid $2,050 for a 1948 sedan.

In Russia, she commented, people like her don't own cars. Mrs. Kasenkina has been learning to drive the new car. A week-end accident in New Jersey, in which the auto was damaged, led to disclosure of her financial success.

Kasenkina, 53, is living alone in a furnished apartment in Jackson Heights, Queens. She says she is not much worried about possible Red reprisals against her, but she has hired a private detective.

The ex-school teacher has written about her escape from Russia, and about forced return to Russia, and about conditions behind the iron curtain—all very distasteful to the Soviets.

CIO Awaits Ford Decision on Surprise Offer

Detroit, May 24 —(UP)—The CIO United Auto Workers awaits a reply from the Ford Motor Company today to the union's surprise offer to arbitrate the speedup issue which touched off the 20-day old Ford strike.

John S. Bugas, the company industrial relations chief, said he would make no comment on the offer until he had time to study it fully.

Hopes brightened that an early settlement was likely for the dispute which has idled 106,000 Ford workers across the nation.

The union has previously offered to arbitrate the issue. But UAW President Walter P. Reuther, who announced the new union position last night, said the union arbitration offer differs fundamentally from Ford's previous arbitration attempts.

Nation to Give Forrestal a Hero's Burial

Washington, May 24 — (AP) — James V. Forrestal, who committed suicide early Sunday morning, will be given a hero's burial tomorrow with members of President Truman's cabinet as pall bearers.
The list of mourners will be headed by Mr. Truman, who said the former defense secretary was "as truly a casualty of war as if he had died on the firing line."
Forrestal's tragic leap from the 16th floor of Bethesda Naval hospital came at a time when doctors recorded that he was recovering from a breakdown caused by overwork in public service.
The funeral service will be held tomorrow morning at 10 a. m. (EST) in the memorial amphitheater in Arlington National Cemetery.

Burial will be in the same cemetery, where rest the Unknown Soldier and thousands of America's dead of two world wars.
A 19-gun salute, followed by taps, will be heard as the casket is lowered, but the service otherwise will be simple, in accordance with Mrs. Forrestal's wishes.

The casket, covered with a blanket of flowers from Mr. Truman and the cabinet members, will be brought from the hospital in a hearse to the gate of Arlington. There it will be transferred to a horse-drawn caisson and escorted to the amphitheater by detachments of soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines.

The 57-year old Forrestal was the nation's first secretary of defense. He was succeeded by Louis Johnson.

The Rt. Rev. Wallace E. Conkling, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago, will officiate at the funeral.

The grave site is near that of the late Gen. Malin Craig, who was army chief of staff in the early days of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration.

The cabinet will walk as honorary pallbearers. The casket will be carried by two men each from the army, navy, marines and air force.

Bands of the navy, army and marines will participate in the ceremony. Taps will be sounded by a marine.

Faces Chair for Slaying of Ex-Wife

Little Rock, May 24 — (UP) — Robert Louis Smith, 42, today faced death in the electric chair only 20 days after the murder here of his former wife, Mrs. Sally May Barner.

A Pulaski circuit court jury found Smith guilty of first degree murder as charged late yesterday. The verdict automatically carries the death penalty.

The conviction culminated one of the swiftest chronological sequences of justice in connection with murder cases in the history of Pulaski county court records.

Mrs. Barner was shot and killed May 4 as she was standing on a sidewalk near the University hospital where she was an undergraduate nurse. Smith — a former Texas convict — surrendered to officers the following day in Jacksonville. Charges were filed and the date for the trial was set on the same day.

The trial itself moved at a rapid pace with the verdict returned less than eight hours after the jury was selected yesterday morning.

Pulaski County Prosecutor Edwin E. Dunaway said he was "well pleased" with the swift progress of the trial.

"That's the only way we're going to bring a halt to all of this," Dunaway said in an obvious reference to the wave of murders here during the past year.

The defense failed to present witnesses during the trial and Dunaway relied mainly on such evidence as the dictated record of Smith's confession and threatening letters he wrote to Mrs. Barner.

Nathaniel Benson, Negro hospital employee who told officers he witnessed the shooting, was not called to the stand. Principal prosecution witnesses were Pulaski County Coroner Howard A. Dishong, Little Rock Detective Chief C. O. Pink and Mrs. Mary Ward, court reporter who took down Smith's statement of guilt.

The victim's mother, Mrs. G. M. Bizzell of Austin, testified that she had found a threatening letter from Smith at her home. The letter introduced as evidence, showed a certain prophetic ability in Smith.

It said: "I'll get her (Mrs. Barner) if I die for it."

Russians in East Zone Are Doing Good Job of Teaching Communism to Youngsters

By DEWITT MACKENIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The Soviet authorities in control of the Eastern zone of Germany are giving a demonstration of smart efficiency in the indoctrination of young folk in communism.

Karl Heinz Schwab member of the Associated Press staff in Berlin, reports that the Red rulers of East Germany are starting their intensive training with little people of six. That, I take it, is about as young as it would be profitable to go. Even Hitler, who achieved devilish wonders in organizing German youth, both boys and girls, didn't begin with them until they were ten years old.

The Hitlerian training comprised not only sports and intensive physical culture to make perfect bodies, but indoctrination in nazism. The ideological instruction included militarism and the claim that the teacher was a messiah.

The result was the creation of a host of young people who appeared to be physically perfect and had a fanatical attachment to the Nazi chief, as I observed when I spent considerable time in Germany just before the war.

The Communists are outdoing Hitler by getting hold of the children at a much earlier formative age and before parents, who may be hostile to communism, have had a chance to instill fixed ideas in young heads. The children are organized in "activist" groups which, as the name indicates, are based on activity. This would seem to partake of the doctrine of activism, which is that life is action and that human duty lies in a world of strife.

The small children are organized in groups called the "Young Pioneers" which are placed under control of the "Free German Youth," comprised of boys between 14 and 25. These organizations engage in all the sports and pastimes which are dear to young folk. However, everything is done collectively. Private clubs — say for stamp collecting or chess

British Delay Extradition Hearing

By WILLIAM RICHARDSON
London, May 24 — (UP) — The Bow street court granted a three-day delay if extradition proceedings against fugitive Communist Gerhart Eisler today and ordered him back to Brixton prison without bail.

The action was taken over protests from defense counsel and as Communists demonstrated in the streets for Eisler's freedom.

The court action lasted only eight minutes.

The postponement was granted on an American request that the proceedings be delayed to give the United States government more time to prepare evidence.

Defense Attorney Dudley Collard objected vigorously to the postponement.

Extra police were on guard as court opened. They ordered the demonstrators off the sidewalk outside the court. But the Communists persisted in handing out leaflets describing Eisler as "a man who has been hounded and persecuted all over the world for the crime of anti-fascism."

The leaflets maintained that extradition laws did not apply in the Eisler case because the Communist was "a political refugee." Many passers-by jeered the Communists as the leaflets were handed to them.

Famous Salvation Army Woman to Retire This Week

New York, May 24 — (AP) — The Salvation Army woman credited with making the first doughnuts served to American troops in France in 1917 will retire this week.

An officer in the Salvation Army since 1908, Lt. Col. Helen Purviance was sent abroad with 11 other Salvation Army officers in 1917.

Assigned to a small village near the front, she couldn't find a store for baking, so she turned out a batch of doughnuts as an experiment.

"They didn't even have time to cool before they were eaten," she said.

Young Trio Jailed for Theft of Auto

Little Rock, May 24 — (AP) — A 15-year-old girl and two male companions, arrested following a wild automobile chase, were held here today for investigation.

The three were listed as Don Eugene Landon, alias Kenny Baxter, 23; his wife, Maryselyn, 15 and Robert Jacob 19 all of Nashville, Tenn.

They were captured yesterday afternoon in woods south of Little Rock by state Police Sgt. H. R. Peterson.

Peterson said the three had ridden away from a filling station near Conway without paying for gasoline, had been chased by two state policemen, and finally had abandoned their automobile. Peterson said the car was stolen at Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Harrison to Vote on Parking Meters

Harrison, May 24 — (AP) — Harrison voted today on whether to install parking meters.

Use of meters was rejected at the general election in April by a small vote. A special election was called for today for a new vote on the proposal.

Arkansas Urged Not to Rest on Its Laurels

Hot Springs, May 24 — (AP) — Arkansas was urged today not to rest on its laurels.

Speaking at the opening session of the twoday convention of the Arkansas Bankers' Association here, Col. T. H. Barton, El Dorado, chairman of the Lion Oil company's board of directors, declared:

"We must redouble our efforts to see that the improved industrial recognition of Arkansas is not halted but is increased until we have proven our state is the most progressive in the nation; that real opportunity exists here."

Barton said Arkansas "is not tainted by the 'isms' and 'isms' that prevail in some other sections."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright told the bankers there are only two ways to balance the national budget — increase taxes or cut expenditures.

He said he favored a former by which expenditures would be cut "across the board" so that all departments would be treated alike.

He added that he believes most lawmakers would favor such a plan if they knew there would be no discrimination against their states.

Matches — can't exist.

Thus the youngsters early are introduced to the intensive repetition to which they are expected to be subjected all their lives. They become activists under direction of the Kremlin, from which all policy flows, and can have it hampered into them that communism stands for peace while the Western "capitalist" powers are warmongers bent on aggression.

Naturally this Communist training is encountering much opposition from older Germans who were reared in the belief that communism and the devil were one and the same thing. However, if the Soviet authorities can retain control and continue their educational program, it is bound to have a marked effect on the coming generation.

And what can be said of Eastern Germany in this respect is also true of all the satellite countries of Eastern Europe. There the opposition to communism rests with grown folk who knew independence before the war.

Keep that bloc of nations under Red regimentation for a score of years and it may be remade ideologically.

Faces Charge of $43,000 Bank Holdup

Memphis, May 24 — (AP) — John Eugene Anderson, 27, was up for trial in criminal court today on charges of bank robbery in connection with a $43,000 holdup here last Feb. 8.

The St. Louis veteran is one of two gunmen accused of the robbery. He already has received a fine of $5,000 and a 20-year prison sentence from a federal court judge on a guilty plea.

The other accused bandit, Clyde Milton Johnson, is to be tried in federal court here June 6. Both men were captured in Miami, Fla. by the FBI shortly after the robbery.

Johnson calmly walked out of Miami's skyscraper "escape proof" jail shortly after his capture. The FBI caught up with him in Indianapolis, Ind., several weeks ago and recaptured him after a blood-gutted fight in downtown monument circle.

Mother of Hattman to Testify

Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 24 —(AP)—The mother of the man Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr. is accused of killing will return to the witness stand.

County Attorney William Crissman said last night he expected to recall Mrs. John Hattman of Coraopolis Pa., mother of Byron C. Hattman, St. Louis slayer, on gincer, as a rebuttal witness. He also expects to recall Mrs. Hattie Steinke, St. Louis, the slain man's landlady.

Dr. Rutledge, 28-year old St. Louis specialist in children's diseases, is charged with the first degree slaying of Hattman last Dec. 14.

The defense contends Hattman forcibly seduced Mrs. Sydney Rutledge, Det. Capt. Tom Condon, a rebuttal witness, went over the story he said Dr. Rutledge told him of the Cedar Rapids hotel room in which Hattman was killed.

The account, Condon said, was related by Dr. Rutledge the afternoon of Dec. 17 at St. Louis hospital where Dr. Rutledge was taken after he became unconscious in a police car. Dr. Rutledge admitted from the stand that he took poison early that morning.

The version Condon said Rutledge gave of the fight, and the story Rutledge told from the witness stand, differed in these points:

Condon said Dr. Rutledge told him he picked up the knife in the hall just outside the door of the room. Dr. Rutledge said on the stand he picked up the knife inside the room.

The detective said Dr. Rutledge declared in the hospital that he had struck the first blow in the fatal fight. On the stand, Dr. Rutledge said the first blow was struck by Hattman.

Condon testified Dr. Rutledge had told him he pulled Hattman back into the room when Hattman tried to escape. On the witness stand, he testified he tried to escape after Hattman had kicked him in the face, but that Hattman blocked the way.

The Ouachita graduates included Mrs. P. D. Sullivan, wife of a minister, and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson. All received Bachelor of Arts degrees. The Rev. Mr. Sullivan, a 1939 graduate, came to Arkansas from his present pastorate in Brazil to attend the graduation.

Dr. J. R. Grant, retiring president of the college, was graduation speaker.

Education Commissioner A. B. Bonds spoke to the nine young men and four young women of Central's graduating class.

Next morning Bea Cosgrove went back in the main house to get a scarf for her hair before she took the sheep to pasture. She heard voices from the tower room, stopped to listen.

"Time to get up Mollie," Mabel Jones said.

Miss Stark yawned loudly. "Too sleepy," she announced. "You can bring my breakfast in here."

"Maybe I could, but I'm not going to. Come on and get up."

"I won't get up. Too sleepy."

"Stay in bed if you like. You won't eat. You're plenty well enough to be up and around."

"I'll tell you what I say! You're nasty and mean to me, and he'll be your witness what you have to do for me."

"He doesn't have to tell me what to do now," Mabel said grimly. "Get up."

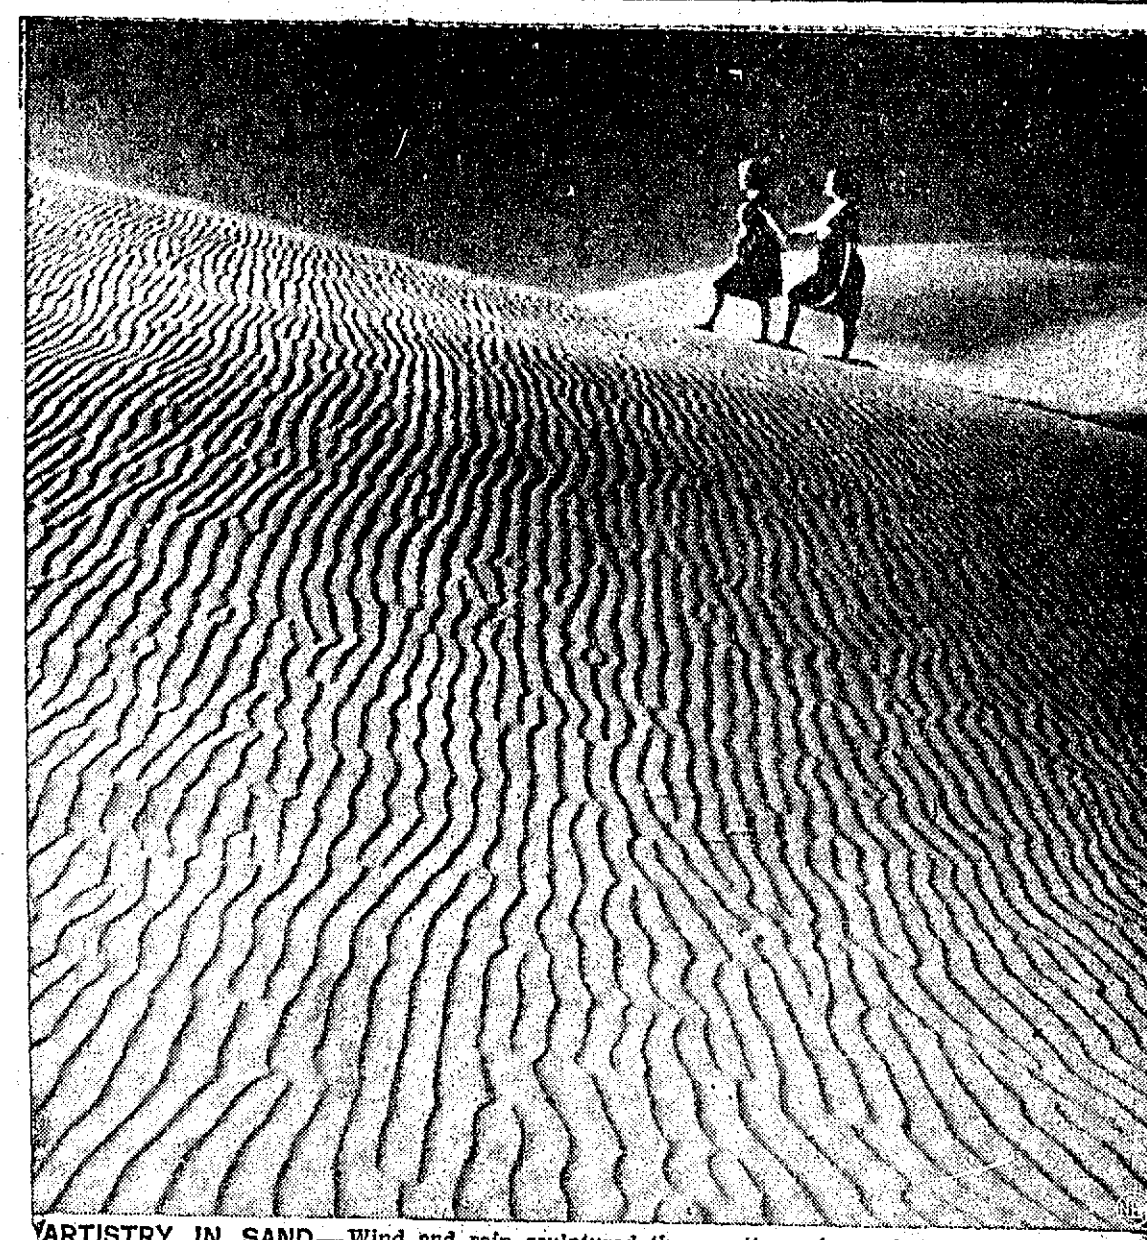

"Owww!" Mollie wailed. "You hurt my arm when you pulled."

"Now you're up, get on this black dress again. You'll help in the kitchen."

Mollie stamped her foot. "I won't! I won't! He's boss on this island. He won't let you treat me like this."

There was a splat of a hard hand on soft bare flesh. "Don't be more of a fool than you have to."

"You're funny."

DOROTHY DIX Should Mother Marry?

Dear Miss Dix: I could cheerfully have slapped the younger generation when my son, who has just reached the age of wanting to break Mom's apron strings, said to me, "Mama, if you would get yourself some swanky clothes and some new teeth, you are still a good enough looking dame to get yourself a man." Up to that time the kid would have had a fit if I had even looked at a man as a prospective stepfather for him. Anyway, it set me thinking that if young men need wives, perhaps middle-aged mothers need husbands.

What do you think?

Z. M. D.

Answer: Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings proceed the wisdom, says the Good Book, and no woman was ever offered better advice than that given by this youthful Solomon who wants to set his mother free because he wants to be free himself.

When a woman is left a widow with a houseful of youngsters to rear, she confronts the most complicated problem on earth. She has to have the softness of a mother and the firmness of a father in dealing with her kids. She has to be a slave who toils night and day to give them every possible advantage. She has to be a martyr who sacrifices all of her own personal tastes and desires to those of her children and it never occurs to the youngsters that Mother isn't having a perfectly hilarious time seeing them have fun, or that she might perchance like a little life of her own.

Their Salvation

So if Mother even mentions getting married, the children raise Cain, but in reality, it is their salvation. For in a few short years the children grow up and fly the home coop. They fall in love and get married. They seek their fortunes in far places. They get absorbed in their careers. And poor Mother is left out on a limb. They love her, but they don't want to be bothered with her. They are too much taken up with their own affairs.

And mark this: The noly solution of the Mother-in-law problem, which causes more tears and family rows than anything else in the world, is for Mother to get married and set up her own home and husband. Foolish, indeed, are the children who oppose Mother's marriage.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am making a study of parent and child relationships. I would like to know why there is so much trouble and why so many problems arise between parents and children and how they can be solved. Any information on this subject will be greatly appreciated.

WILMA

Answer: The problem of why parents and children get on each other's nerves and find it so hard to get along together is one that Solomon himself couldn't solve. Probably the answer is that Mom and Pop want their children to be rubber stamps of themselves, and the kids regard Father and Mother as awful warnings instead of shining examples. Whenever you hear parents complaining about how untruthful their children are and how disappointed they are in John and Mary, it is nearly always because John and Mary have a little backbone of their own.

Another source of conflict between parents and children is that so many fathers and mothers are about a century behind the times and they try to force their antiquated ideas upon their up-to-date children. The most mischievous sayings in the world are: "My father did so-and-so, so I do it." "My father believed so-and-so, so I believe it." I never let my girls have dates because my mother never had any. Modern children are not going to wear Grandpa's before-the-war shoes.

Parents and children are always going to fight as long as there is a new idea to scrap about.

Dear Miss Dix: I am an ex-G.I. 25 years old, and want some advice. I want to send for my fiancée who lives in Germany. I have no job, no money and am bothered with stomach ulcers. How can I get her to the U. S. A.?

Answer: Well, I think you had better leave her in Germany until you are better fitted, physically and financially, to get married. I once heard a man who was about in your position, boast that he had as good a right to starve a wife as any other man. Maybe so, but wives don't like to be starved, and no man should get married unless he has some way of supporting a family. (Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Simpson Leads Rocks Over Mobile 8-1

By The Associated Press
Birmingham, May 23 (AP)—The Barons, a few percentage points ahead of the Atlanta Crackers who were defeated, 4 and 3, by the Chattanooga Lookouts.

New Orleans whipped the oft-defeated Memphis Chicks, 10 to 4, to remain in third position. Little Rock continued in fourth place with an 8-1 victory over the Mobile Bears.

Baron Third Baseman Fred Hatfield clouted his 10th and 11th homers of the season against the Vols.

The Crackers had the bases loaded in the ninth at Chattanooga when the Lookouts stopped them cold.

Hal Simpson, Little Rock outfielder, hit two homers, a double and a single in five times up to pace the Travelers to their third straight win over the Bears. Art McConnell gave up seven scattered hits in going the route for the Rocks.

Doe Fondy's four-bagger accounted for Mobile's only run.

Tuesday night's games: Mobile at Little Rock. Atlanta at Chattanooga. Birmingham at Nashville. New Orleans at Memphis.

Some 1000 rabid baseball fans packed the new Fair park stands for the opening of the Hope Legion baseball season, and saw the Legion push across the winning run in the bottom of the seventh to defeat Gurdon 5-4. The victory was the first of the season for the Legion who have suffered one defeat.

Great pitching on the part of Charles Gough limited the visitors to seven hits while his team mates were bailing out 11. Gary Anderson and Jack Bell unleashed the batting power, both getting three hits in four trips to the platter. Gilson Ross also did his share of the hitting collecting two for three.

The Legion's offense fired in the second inning as they pounded out three hits coupled with three Gurdon errors to put across four runs. Jack Bell opened things with a single. After Pony Reeves went down swinging, James Dennison lashed a single into right field scoring Bell and allowing two more runs. Gough skied to center for the second out, and Dennison was forced to leave the game with an injured ankle after sliding into second. Gilson Ross walked. Gary Anderson fired a single into right field scoring Bell and allowing two more runs. Jack Bell grounded to the pitcher, but was safe when the first base man dropped the ball. Ross and Cleland followed with a double and a single to bring the team to 5-0.

In the top of the third, Gurdon got one run back as Buck Wells doubled, and scored when Hudspeath singled.

Both teams rocked along smoothly, with the Legion threatening in the sixth, but a double play stopped it.

Gurdon tied the count in the seventh as Gough walked three batters and allowed two more singles to bring it to a 4-4 game. In the bottom of the seventh, Bill McClelland opened with a single into left. Jack Bell moved him to second with another single.

Bobby Ellen hit a perfect play ball to short, but Morris let the ball get through him, and McClelland's error across with what proved to be the winning run. On the play, Jack Bell tried to steal second and home and tagged out. Blake Schooley ended the inning by grounding out pitcher to first.

The eighth and ninth innings proved to be easy for Gough who notched his first victory of the season.

The Legion's will try for win number two tomorrow night when they tangle with the Waldo Giants. Waldo holds one victory over the Legion this season, a 10-2 victory.

It was learned this morning that James Dennison broke his arm in the baseball game last night and field seemed too small to hold both games. Actually, it didn't have to do with the game, but a bureau re-auguration and through the C.I.O. Seany Baldwin had been administrator of the farm bureau administration and when Hillman's political action committee was formed, Baldwin was caught telephoning Eleanor Roosevelt at the White House and commencing a campaign to force the farm bureau to take over the farm bureau administration on the remote farm of the creek through the central office in Washington. The Dies committee had requested a lot of long distance telephone slips and found the records of Seany's calls to Eleanor the Great and the farm bureau among them. Baldwin was the office manager of the P.A.C. Wallace, the candidate of the Communist Party in the last election, was not a member of the farm bureau and he got madder and madder as the Dies committee went after anti-Communism, the right wing American Labor party broke away and was called the Liberal party. It is still a local party, but by accident the benefit of some bad judgment and misinterpretation of the regular Democratic party, it has won a victory with young Roosevelt that may be portentous.

There have been several efforts by professional unionists in other sections to create and give permanence to European type splinter parties bearing the name of "Labor" and "Farmer" and intimating that they were national groups. These plans succeeded. The reason is that New York voters are more interested in politics than other Americans and are very sensitive to considerations affecting various places in Europe. It is the last typical American population in the country and "issues" can be created to decide how they will vote in American elections which would be meaningless in Arizona, Iowa or Tennessee among many other typical states.

Dubinsky nominated young Gurdon and his organization elected him. That is equivalent to saying that the Garment Workers Union nominated and elected a man because the Liberal party actually is the union's own household party in the city of New York. It has a power and a responsibility which were not intended for a chief of labor union enjoying the special privileges and sentimental advantages which the public normally, but thoughtlessly, accords to this small group. By extension, the same Dubinsky and his union, throw money around in $250,000 checks for political purposes, could elect a president of the United States and put him over—but for the fact that the considerations which make "issues" in New York would make gibberish to the rank and file hundred per center out yonder.

Large Crowd Sees Legion Down Gurdon

Gough Pitches Hope to 5-4 Decision

Favorite U. S. Entry Eliminated in Tournament

Harlech, Wales, May 24 (AP)—Grace Lenczyk, American women's amateur golf champion, was eliminated in the third round of the championship today by Miss J. Bisgood of England.

The score was two to one. The defeat of the 21-year-old Newington, Conn., girl was the biggest upset of the tournament.

She has the favorite to succeed to the championship won last year by a fellow American, Louise Suggs, now turned professional.

Her departure left one Yankee contender in the running.

Miss Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, defeated Mrs. R. T. Peel in the third round, three and two.

The Lenczyk-Bisgood match went to the 17th green, where the American lost.

It was Miss Lenczyk's second try for the British championship, held for two consecutive years by Americans. Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias won it in 1947. Last year Connecticut girl was knocked out by Miss Jean Donald, the Scottish girl who was eliminated from this year's championship yesterday.

Deaths Laid to Domestic Troubles

Little Rock, May 24 — (UP) — Domestic troubles, sickness and heavy drinking were blamed today for the tragic deaths of 10-year-old son, Robert Lee in a small upstairs room of a downtown rooming house here.

Enclave County Coroner Dr. Edward A. Dishongh, ruled that Ewton shot and wounded his wife, then killed his son and then turned the .38 caliber pistol on himself.

The woman was released from hospital last night after treatment for a minor flesh wound in her shoulder.

Officers said Ewton had telephoned his wife in Pine Bluff, asking her to come here and take the boy to live with her. While Mrs. Ewton was packing the boy's clothing, the youngster ran downstairs and shouted to Mrs. J. L. Barker of the nearby Banner Mattress Co. that "my daddy's got a shotgun and is going to kill my mother."

Mrs. Barker said the boy tore loose from her grasp when she sought to detain him, and he ran back upstairs to the room where he was shot through the heart. Mrs. Ewton was shot in the upstairs hallway and stumbled downstairs and onto the sidewalk. Officers said Ewton committed suicide by placing the pistol to his right temple and pulling the trigger.

Neighboring tenants in the rooming house said Ewton had abused his wife on several occasions while drinking heavily. He also was reported to be suffering from cancer of the stomach.

Ewton had worked recently as a night cook in a small cafe, but was unemployed at the time of the shooting.

Turnesa Move Up in British Amateur Play

Portmarnock, Wales, May 24 (P) — Willie Turnesa, American amateur golf champion, reached the third round of the British amateur championship today by defeating D. P. Coyce of London, 4 and 3.

Playing in a cold wind, the little star from Elmford, N. Y., threaded his way around the first nine holes of the difficult Portmarnock course in 38 strokes — two over par — to turn two up. He was one under even fours for the six holes needed to close out his opponent on the back nine.

Choyce gave up at the short 15th. His tee shot found a deep bunker, and after three attempts to knock it out it still lay in the sand. Turnesa dropped a six-foot putt for a birdie two to clinch his victory.

Here and There in Arkansas

Hot Springs, May 23 — (P) — The 69th annual convention of the Arkansas Bankers' association opened here today. Speakers at the three-day session include Sen. J. W. Fulbright and Col. T. H. Barton of El Dorado.

Little Rock, May 23 — (UP) — Robert Louis Smith, 42-year-old former Texas convict, was scheduled to go on trial for his life here today in connection with the daylight slaying of his former wife, Mrs. Sally May Barner.

Mrs. Barner was shot five times with a .38 caliber pistol on May 4 near the University hospital where she was an undergraduate nurse. Smith was apprehended the following day in Jacksonville and allegedly confessed the shooting to officers.

Interest in the case was heightened when an autopsy disclosed that the woman had been suffering from an incurable cancer.

Chief witness for the state was expected to be Nathaniel Benson, a Negro employe at the hospital who told officers he saw the shooting.

Smith served three years in a Texas penitentiary on a bigamy charge. He told officers he killed Mrs. Barner following an argument over $500 and some papers he claimed to have given her before entering the Texas prison.
